

Timeline of China Geography Specialty Group (CGSG)

Created November 2003

Updated March 2009 by Yu Zhou

Updated February and April 2015 & 2018 by Guo Chen

Introduction (By Yifei Sun, 2003)

The purpose of this Timeline is to record the major events in the history of China Geography Specialty Group (CGSG). For each year, I try to include a few items in the report: major prizes and awards to CGSG members, journals with China Geography as the focus, major books published by CGSG members, and conferences on China geography, among others. I also compile a list of CGSG officers from the very beginning (Appendix B). I try to include all “significant” events in the report, though there exist significant gaps in the report particularly in the 1980s, because of the lack of information.

Materials included in the Timeline are primarily extracted from the CGSG annual reports and newsletters. During the compiling process, I have received help from many CGSG members. I want to thank Kam Wing Chan, C. Cindy Fan, Larry Ma, Clifton Pannell, Stanley Toops, Gregory Veeck, and Jack Williams for providing valuable information about the history of China Geography Specialty Group. Particularly, I want to thank Clifton Pannell for writing a memo on the early history of our group (Appendix A) and Jack F. Williams for sharing with me his article “Geographers and China” (Issues and Studies, 38(4):217247). Both Clifton and Jack also have provided me the early issues of CGSG newsletters and annual reports. I also want to express my gratitude to the AAG central office for providing numerous volumes of CGSG annual reports and newsletters. Finally, I want to thank many CGSG members for providing information and corrections after the first draft was released in the CGSG 2003 Fall Newsletter. You will see that the report is not complete. If you have more information that you think should be included in the timeline, please let me know and I will make changes accordingly.

Hope you will enjoy the timeline and future CGSG officers will continue the effort.

Respectfully submitted,

Yifei Sun
Vice-Chair
